

Time 5/1/73

One of the many mysteries left over from the President's TV speech of April 30 is why he gave such lavish praise to Haldeman and Ehrlichman. If they were indeed among "the finest public servants it has been my privilege to know," why was he forcing them to resign? Was this praise the price for their going quietly (so far)? One prefers to