The U.S. government spent $76,000 to landscape President Nixon's property at his private estate, according to a federal official.

This disclosure totals the amount known to have been spent on the property.

At least three systems of house wiring that all dealt with "security" were done.

The amount was spent on Nixon grounds.

GSA spokesman Gary Angelo supplied the $76,000 figure an hour after the interview ended.

According to Sampson, the sizable, federally-financed landscaping operations on the Nixon grounds were necessary to repair damage done by workmen who had
