Nixon's Demeanor During Paris Visit Draws Sharp Criticism From French

By NAN ROBERTSON Special to The New York Times

Nixon's talks with world lead- alists and made available to- tinuing ability to dominate ers and his activities on the day to the bureau of The New international politics - even streets of Paris this weekend York Times by a high official without the presence of Secrebrought sharp criticism in of a French ministry said Mr. tary of State Kissinger.

France today, as well as some grudging acknowledgment of stituted a publicity campaign on had asked for and received day and Sunday, Mr. Nixon there of loud feverishness, the other and that he had continued plunged through police lines to discourtesy of which is equaled the "superpower dialogue" with shake hands and talk with only by its clumsiness." curbside crowds. This was in Le Monde, the most respected of the Soviet Union. addition to talks with foreign newspaper in France, joined in leaders, assembled here to the indignation in a front-page honor the memory of President editorial titled "The Nixon Fes- Continued on Page 4, Column 3 on Tuesday.

continuing United States power. for the mourning of an entire the allegiance of the European On three occasions on Satur- nation, introducing an atmos- statesmen he saw one after the Georges Pompidou, who died tival." But it added that the American President had spec-PARIS, April 8-President A letter circulated to jour-tacularly demonstrated his con-

President Nikolai N. Podgorny

The mass-circulation daily