Cautious on Mideast Tal

By Jack Anderson

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger believes he can negotiate an agreement to separate Israeli and Syrian forces on the turbulent Golan Heights. But he has warned President Nixon of the danger that Syria's President Assad might "jump the tracks."

Kissinger's success in arranging a disengagement may determine whether American motorists will have to start lining up again for gas. For Arab leaders have warned that the oil embargo may be reimposed if a Syrian-Israeli settlement falls through.

Kissinger laid the groundwork in Moscow for a settlement by promising to consult with the Soviets. Intelligence reports claim they tried to disrupt the negotiations by encouraging the Syrians to make impossible demands and to open fire on the Golan front.

The Soviets reportedly feared assessments, to retain their in- have changed. fluence with Syria and Iraq, which will give them access to the oil-rich Persian Gulf.

singer sought to reassure the political poison. But the memo

Foreign Minister Andrei Gro- ing a ceremonial robe. myko before beginning the next round of talks with the Syrians and Israelik

Sources close to Kissinger tell us he has dautioned the President that the psychology of the negotiating process sometimes seems to take precedence over the merits of the arguments.

He has reported that President Assad is highly intelligent, with a sharp sense of humor, but for these candidates." unpredictable. The Syrian leader is caught between factions, some of them extremist, according to Kissinger.

He is carefully informing the Egyptians, meanwhile, of every move he is making. He wants them to understand that he has done his best in case the Syrian negotiations break down. His strategy is to keep the scace on the Israeli Egyptian front no matter what hampens with Syria.

Changing Times: A confiden-Kissinger was trying to squeeze tial campaign document, which them out of a Middle East settle- has been buried in President ment. They are particularly ea- Nixon's files for more than two in judgment on him if his imger, according to intelligence years, dramatizes how fortunes

Today, the President is pleading privately for invitations to campaign for Republican candi-During his Kremlin call, Kis-dates, as evidence that he isn't voice in any final Middle East selected what Republicans he Affairs agree. peace. He is expected to stop off would favor with the haughtiin Geneva to consult with Soviet ness of a dowager queen choos-supposed to defend Pueblo

In the memo, campaign deputy director Jeb Magruder relayed a message from White House staff chief H. R. (Bob) nent, have used the Rio Haldeman to Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

"Haldeman indicated," wrote Over the years, the govern-Magruder, "that the President ment and developers have "Haldeman indicated," wrote and House candidates, but will do simple written endorsements Their ancient civilization sim-

As for hopeful GOP newcomers, the President took an even more high-and-mighty view. "The President," Magruder informed Mitchell, "is willing to have his picture taken with incumbent candidates but will not do them for new candidates for the Senate and the House."

Footnote: Many Republicans in Congres are still grumbling about the treatment they got from Mr. Nixon and his campaign committee in 1972. Some of them, ironically, may now sit peachment comes before the House and Senate.

Indian Water-The Pueblo Indians have accused the Justice private lawyers on the case and Department of "throwing" a "will do the best we can," prom-case concerning Indian water ised the spokesman. rights in New Mexico. Our own

Soviets that they will have a shows that only two years ago he sources at the Bureau of Indian will not do TV clips for senators slowly drained away their water rights for non-Indian projects. ply will dry up, they contend, if they lose this latest case.

The Justice Department is rights to Rio Grande water against the state of New Mexico. The Pueblos, survivors of the oldest civilization on the conti-Grande waters for irrigation for centuries.

The Pueblos, therefore, brought in a prestigious Albuquerque law firm to review the Justice Department's preparation of the case. In a confidential memo, the firm warned that 'the government's case is not prepared for trial."

Furthermore, "if the preparations proceed without change." declared the law firm, "there is a serious possibility that the case will be lost."

Footnote: A Justice Department spokesman said they had seen the private review prepared by the Albuquerque lawyers. Justice will work with the

8 1974, United Feature Syndicate