

- Is the U.S.A. really out of Southeast Asia?
- What's happening in Cambodia, Laos, Vietnam?

'Thanks a lot'

Wright—Miami Daily News

● By money, mercenaries and para-military forces, the U. S. continues to intervene in Indo-China. For the year 1973 the Administration plans to spend over 2 billion dollars in that area.

● In Cambodia the Lon Nol Government would not last a single day without U. S. backing, which has now moved from overt war to covert war.

● In South Vietnam, Dictator Thieu still holds 200,000 political prisoners under inhuman conditions including torture. For information on what individuals can do, call 293-3855, 234-2000 or 223-0527.
