The Rev. Moon, a Korean clergyman, claims 2 million supporters in the United States.

Carlo Zaccarelli, religious representative for the church's prayer and fast committee, said the purpose is "absolutely spiritual ... any political implication is only by chance." He said the reaction of the ministers contacted had been "80 per cent positive."

The Rev. Demetrios G. Kalaris, pastor of the Greek Orthodox Church of SS. Constantine and Helen, said he considered prayer and fasting a necessary part of the Christian tradition.

"We love America, we love the presidency, and we need to rally round the institution and the man," said Kalaris, "until such time as things turn out to be different."

In an informal survey of ministers asked by the Unification Church to support the prayer and fast, several expressed reservations about the

Dr. Stuart Grizzard, pastor of the National Baptist Memorial Church, said he had put up a poster announcing the event. "But I expect that will be the extent of our involve-ment," he said. "I'm glad to pray for President Nixon, but that is not to be construed as support of the mess the administration is in. I'm sadly disillusioned by the Nixon administration, and if this is one of those pious rightist movements, I'm not supporting it."

The Rev. C. N. Reed, pastor of the Israel Metropolitan C. M. E. Church, said he permitted the Unification Chrepresentatives to their invitation from 1 pit. But he said -'suspicious of their r
