

Dear Clay,

6/3/98

I heard from Dave. Hope you do not find it too taxing and that it is interesting.

Had a note I now can't find of a few corrections.

There had been a Memphis ^{Police} inspector who was usually referred to as N. E. Zachary. From somewhere I thought I remembered his name was Nathan and I used that. The OPR says it is Nevelin. Perhaps it would be better to refer to him simple as N.E.Zachary.

I got the Memphis federal judge's name wrong. It is not MacRae. It is McRae.

Finished the last of the last two chapters a few minutes ago but am not up to the reading and correcting now. I'll get on that in the morning. Dave has not yet received the ^{last few} chapters prior to what I'll be enclosing when we spoke. I'll be doing a foreword and probably an introduction.

As you come on repetition you think is not necessary will you please make a separate note of it? I do intend some but not all that I repeat.

I was Ray's investigator and I did do the successful habeas corpus investigation and then the investigation for the evidentiary hearing that was to get him a trial. Besides writing Frame -Up and fighting that lawsuit to get the records Posner would have it believed are available because of the overflowing good heart of the FBI.

I've heard from Ray's sister and one of his brothers since he died.

Friendly.

Best,

David
