INSIDE STORY : WHO KILLED MARTIN LUTHER KING ?

WHAT THE PRESS SAID

The Times : " A compelling piece of detective work which has managed to track down an impressive range of witnesses and, like all good investigative journalism, constantly asks the awkward questions."

The Sunday Telegraph : "This painstakingly researched John Edginton film might be described as the standard 1980s documentary about the assassination of liberal leaders in the United States... The case for conspiracy now looks unanswerable."

The Sunday Correspondent : " This complex but logically argued and important film."

The Sunday Times : " A fascinating film ."

The VOICE - Britain's black newspaper - editorial : "A new inquiry into the assassination of civil rights leader Martin Luther King must be set up following damning evidence revealed by a BBC documentary... It is a disgrace that it has taken British TV to reveal all the various discrepancies surrounding King's death."
