Dear Peter Lemkin,

I do remember some of our correspondence. I do not remember Bud Fensterwald contacting me about William Robert Plumlee. I check my files and I have no Plumlee file. Years ago Bud spoke to me about many baseless leads and I can't begin to remember them all. This one does not seem familiar. But I do not question that he could have spoken to me about it. That I have no file leads me to believe that what he said did not impress me.

I know nothing about the 11/21/63 flight but I do remember that Richard Popkin had something about the Red Bird airport in his The Second Oswald.

You say you have corroboration of what Plumlee told you. Good, but is what he says about the assassination itself corroborated or are other details?

I've heard too many of these stories not to question them.

That you have worked, as you say, with Jim Harris, is not credentials to me. His book is a disgrace and he is so ingorant he did not know what he was writing about. Witto for the people about whom he wrote. He has distanced himself from the established fact of the assassination and compiled a compendium of all the nuttiness. That is not research.

If you have something that appears to be of substance to me and I am able to help you I will. But before I take any time for it I have to be persuaded that it is both relevant and real.

If Plumlee was questioned by both HSCA and a Senate subcommittee and neither did anything with what they got from him the obvious conclusion is that he did not impress them with what he said or his substantiation of what he said.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
