Dear Dave,

Thanks for your 6/24 and the enclosure, which I'll read when I have time. I respond in haste so that can ^{you} make plans for your DC trip. First, as of now, any one of the days, 7/17-19^m is OK.

My life is controlled by things I can't control. One of these is medical problems. A new and potentially dangerous one recently diagnosed is "sleep apnea." It means not breathing when asleep. One of the consequences is that I am wide awake at ungodly hours. This past Friday, 12:40 a.m., and the next day only 25 minutes later. So, I must get to be early. I get too little sleep as it is and many days I can't get to take a nap.

As, when we got out to supper, to a fine place, we are there by 5 p.m. We always go to one place the owners of which have become friends, an Oriental restaurant. The food is as good as you can get anywhere ^{and} it is modestly priced. A small place off the beaten path. We just about always go there Saturday nights. I mention this in the event you will not be able to do much in DC that day and may be returning the next day. But it does not have to be Saturday. Barring what I now cannot anticipate it can be any of those days. The food is not farout and if you have the Texas liking for spicy food they have some Korean dishes you'll probably find as hot as you want. Most are not spicy. They have kimche, too, if you like that.

In thumbing the enclosures to see if your letter to Penguin was there I noted by accident what I thought I took from your letter, that Oswald "was stationed with the U-2 spy plane mission at Sutsugi, Japan." He was not stationed with it. Not was his unit. Do you think it is your letter that got the publisher to cancel a press conference scheduled for Crenshaw? Too bad that after all these years Gary Shaw can't distinguish fact from fiction. Such a nice guy, too! And I understand Crenshaw blamed all his mistakes on the others yet!

I knew that JFK: The Documented Screenplay was coming but no more. I've not seen it. Who published it? If they "document" that it will be more magical than Bullet 399!

Thanks and best wishes,
