Obvious that Oswald didn't kill Kennedy

After all the evidence that has been uncovered by researchers of the President Kennedy assassination, anyone who believes Lee Harvey Oswald did it is an absolute moron.

The alleged murder bullet doesn't have a scratch on it. Oswald was interrogated for 12 hours, with no records being kept. His palm print appeared on the rifle only after it was in the hands of the FBI.

In the three-year period following the murders of Kennedy and Oswald, 18 material witnesses died — six by gunfire, three in motor accidents, two by suicide, one from a cut throat, one from a karate chop to the neck, five from natural causes.

An actuary, engaged by the London Sunday Times, concluded that on Nov. 22, 1963, the odds against these witnesses being dead by February 1967 were one hundred thousand trillion to one.

Gutter tactics futile weapon against ideas

Brian Keliher is publishing the Flush Rush Quarterly, a newsletter that targets Rush Limbaugh, the popular talk show host. According to an article in your paper, Keliher "is mean. No rhetorical gambit is too low, no retort too cheap."

Ad hominem attacks reveal far more about the accuser than the accused. An admission of intellectual paucity and the unmistakable sign of a small mind, ad hominem attacks bespeak anemic ideas and reveal a lamentable vacuum of logic, a woeful absence of integrity and an indisputable lack of guts.

Attempting to ridicule or destroy a person's philosophy with desperate, cheap personal attacks is cowardly and futile. If you cannot defeat a person's ideas with better ideas, than admit the person is right.
