

What has come to pass in Washington cannot be laid at Nixon's door alone. As John Kenneth Galbraith, economist and former JFK adviser says, " Over the 35 years I've known Washington, we've passed from the age of the common man to the age of the common crook."