

1/19/78

Harold: I was just glancing through Bartlett's Familiar Quotations and came across a quote from Irwin Russell that made me think of you:

"De man what keeps pullin' de grapevine shakes down a few bunches at leas'."

By coincidence, directly beneath was another quote from Russell, but this one is more likely to conjure up an image of you in the mind of any number of government personnel:

"You mus' reason with a mule."

Best!

Harold