Dear in Battle- insrt an RXT add

Stanton has himself unbagged that cat. When he was asked why the Public Defender's file didn't contain a single photograph" he did not want to admit that none had been taken by the defense. Instead, having described Thompson as his friend, he said "he had been gracious enough to give us everything he had. And, "when this case was disposed of" Thompson went to Stanton office because he "wanted to go to New York and make a presentation to some group and asked to have that [his files] back." (T246)
