
...get
...e him
...n over
...niversi-
...ent due
...students
...nificant
...e cost of
...herefore
...appreciate
...federal
...continue
...for such
...defense
...nd some
...ut things
...es should
...ates he

...like to
...s in the
...He would
...etropolitan
...York City
...rand Wednesday

...or Recognized

...mmunity Service

...why [illegible] for him [illegible]
...Also attending the ceremony were Miller's wife Maude, his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Miller and their granddaughter Annice, as well as members of the County Court and the City Council.

Writer Gets Papers on Ray

FREDERICK — Writer Harold Weisberg of Shooks-town, who believes James Earl Ray is not the man who killed Dr. Martin Luther King, said today he has got all the documents — except for two — for which he has sued the federal government.

The documents are copies of affidavits from the London extradition proceedings against Ray. Following the proceedings, Ray was returned to Memphis, Tenn., where he waived trial and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The two missing documents are photocopies of the folder in which the U.S. Justice Department kept the affidavits and a letter from the department vowing that Weisberg has received everything in the file.

Weisberg says he will not dismiss his suit in the U.S. District Court in Washington until he has these. The Justice Department earlier had asked that the suit be dismissed because it had allowed Weisberg access to the file.

Weisberg says the documents he sued for may help get Ray a trial in open court.