Inventory Ray-Affivadits files examined 5/14/70, Rm 3607, with Mrs. Cavecini present

The large folder was marked 95 000 473 Ser(ial) 3 Largest Stemp is FILE COPY. Note says see letter 12/10/69-but there is no such letter in the files. This is so long after the minitrial, I presume ot is connected with my efforts to get this. There was another stemp, "Please return this material to Confidential files".

This is a file of originals. It clearly is the England file for a number of reasons. Not only are all the appropriate documents adored with the typical ribbons, seals and stamps of varying colors, but the original of the Embassy letter is included. It is dated 6/12/69 and is 2 pages long (11-12).

This files had been in the Criminal Division. It was sent for in my presence. Arrangements had been made for me to examine it there but I wouldn't leave the Civil Division reception room unless Anderson (who never showed himself "took me by the hand", my words. So, he got in touch with a Mr. Koffsky, to whom I had been directed, the cheif of legislative and special projects, then he had a messenger bring it there. Prior to the messenger's return I had been told I could examine it in Anderson's presence in a conference room accross the hall, but when it was xxxx delivered there was a delay, which Mary Lundberg, the secretary in apparent charge, explained was due to a "policy decision at the highest leverl, to determine who would show it to me. So, I waited, even dozed.

By the time I was ushered into Mrs. Cavecini's presence, it was too late to do more than make a list. In each case the pictures are actual photos, not xeroxes of photos, and other items, like the New Rebal Motel registration, also are photos rather than xeroxes.

I emphasize this seems to be the England file because it contains notetions that cannot relate to England or the extradition proceeding and can, almost without must, relate to an expected Memphis trial. This addresses the significance of the denial of it to Ray and the relationship of this to his rights. These handwritten notations will appear below with the items concernod.

This listing is in the sequence in which the documents were in the file as I examined it. There were several sets, looped together in the upper left-hand corner with blue ribbon, through grommeted holes. Prior to the identification of the documents is the name of the person certifying it where I took time to note it. In the files, blue cardboard slips were affixed with paperclips with names or other identifications, like "misc", which also is unrelated to England, clearly was added after the file was returned, and remains.
