Leaks, Life, Aynesworth, Bill Alexander, Roddenberry 1/13/71

PH, JMS

Henry Wade writers in answer to my letter on the sale of the Oswald diary pages:

"actually, I~~m~~ am already familiar with the situation~~t~~ you mention, concerning the diary. I assisted the FBI in that investigation and Alexander is no longer with this office."

Plus friendly good wishes.

He volunteered no information about any other investigations of any other leaks, but when PH sends the extra copy (as he needn't now if he hasn't), I'll ask him about others, and perhaps why Alexander left. He made no comment on my citation of the strange formulation of the identification of the prints.

Roddenberry:

Paul Rothermel says he hasn't forgotten, is owrking on it and will be in touch again in a week or so. He has to be in Vegas and LA and may be able to tap some sources then.

To date, he has gotten nothing new on this.

P.S.Mary has long been silent. I suspect Buck's health is very poor. But should you have to write her, you might ask if she knows anything.
