State Dept. Pair to Aid Walt Rostow

Post 6/3/66

Two senior State Department officials are being moved to the National Security Council staff under Presidential Assistant Walt W. Rostow.

William J. Jorden, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs, and Howard Wriggins, a member of the department's Policy Planning Council, will join the NSC staff Monday, it was announced yesterday.

Jorden was previously a member of the Policy Planning Council. Rostow headed it before moving to the White House earlier this year after the resignation of McGeorge Bundy.

Both Wriggins and Jorden are specialistson Asia. Wriggins, who holds a Ph.D. degree from Yale, has specialized in South Asian affairs. He was born in Philadelphia in 1918.

Jorden, who was born in Bridger, Mont., in 1923, formerly was correspondent of the New York Times and the Associated Press, serving in Japan, Korea and the Soviet Union.
