Dear Mr. Roffman:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 23.

The Russell Library is open for research. We do have a small amount of material relating to the Warren Commission, but what we have is really peripheral and I doubt that it would be of much interest to you. We are expecting to receive within the not too distant future some additional material, and I hope that it will be of the type which would be of greater value to researchers. I will be glad to keep your letter on file and notify you when the additional material has been received and processed for use.

Because of our very limited staff, I regret that we cannot undertake to furnish copies of records to researchers by mail. We have an in-house guide to the collection, but we do not yet have one for distribution. I am enclosing one of our brochures, which I hope will be of interest to you.

I am sorry that I cannot be of more help to you at this time.

Sincerely yours,

Max M. Gilstrap
