

Dear Whitewash,

6/18/76

73s is a carry-over from the days of ham radio. Other versions, coming from the Morse code days, are ... --. In letters this was SK, in words skaol. All meant the same.

From those days you have other options of tradition. You can be OL or YL. The distinction, as I remember, had nothing to do with age. Marital status. An OL was, I think, any married woman no matter how young. YL, no matter how old, was young lady. I think there was a woman variant, too, OW, YW.

My interest in a CB set is different than yours. I'm not able to afford it. I wanted one in the house with rechargeable batteries for any emergency. Including loss of current and phone. Only my pines are between us and the sheriff's office, which watches frequency I think 8.

Wecht is right and wrong about the Post and those stories, which I'm glad to get for other reasons, a few details the Post did not carry. In fact the Post carried two extremely long Sunday articles saying more. Each was over a full page in length. Each began on the first page of the editorial section and continued for an inside page.

Those articles had a subtle twist but they were not really any more propaganda than these. The basic question is not of a Cuban connection but of who did it and then with this established who did it. This line presupposes the basic accuracy of the report and the Commission.

Howard has moved. His new address is 1111 SW 16 Ave., #156, Gainesville, Fla. 32601. He'd be good. But note Ford makes the same assumption if his interest is in Oswald's motives. The world is full of people to whom various motives can be attributed. They did not all off JFK. Motive is irrelevant without proof of reason to have motive.

book store: much obliged. I agree. Post Mprtem is not a biography!

I'm honored to be on CB with First Mama. Makes me feel I'm cleaning it up a bit.

Busy on court work. Going well. Again thanks.

... --. (aka 30s)
Ole W Weisberg (a la 1929)

I was "ole" when I was in high school. CW means continuous wave, translated into the jargon of the day, a Morse code operation, which I did not have. Code then was good for distance, which did not particularly interest me. I had a phone operation. Made my own set and most of the parts, too.

Dear Harold,

I initially filed these two articles away without making copies for you because I assumed that, since they were datelined Washington, you would get them in the Post. However, several nights ago, Wecht was on a talk show along with Robert Anson and, in the course of the interview, he mentioned these articles. According to Wecht, the 5/30/ article, which was on the front page of our Sunday paper, wasn't carried by the Post or the Times. In case he was right, I dug them out and had copies made.

I called Larry Ford a few days ago to drop some not so subtle hints that he should have another show on about the assassination in the very near future. He said that he's been waiting for the release of the Church report on "Oswald's motives" so that he could have someone ~~on~~ on to give their reactions to it. He definitely intends to ask you and he wanted to know if I knew of any other credible people who would be worth interviewing. I suggested Howard and Sylvia Meagher. I gave him Sylvia's phone number, but I don't have Howard's. If you think Howard would be willing to do the show, I'd appreciate it if you would give me his number.

~~stop~~ Remember I told you that the Pitt book had shelved your books under "Biography" and that I moved them every time I went in.

Well, whoever kept moving them back must have given up because they're now shelved where I kept moving them to - up front, under political science.

Last week I finally got myself a CB radio for my car. I spent about a week trying to decide what name to pick for my "handle". Since your handle should reflect someone or something you're interested in, I picked "Whitewash". (I hope you don't mind). Now, whenever I'm asked what my handle means, I tell the person it's the name of a series of books that they really should read. Inevitably, we get into a discussion of the assassination. Already, I've had 3 or 4 people express an interest in ordering some books, so I gave them your address. If Betty Ford can campaign over her CB I can plug books over mine!

73's to ya good buddy. (That's best wishes)

Karen
