

Dear David,

12/6/94

Perhaps this color picture of the world taken from the shuttle will interest the boys.

I also write for a different reason.

When a Hood student was here today I asked her to get two files for me from the overflow files in the basement. I was pretty certain that to make room in my overloaded office files I'd shifted them down there. They are not in my office files. I'd shifted them because I did not expect to need them for some time. And they are not in the basement. They are two Yuri Nosenko files. They held the copies of the FBI's interviews with him from the Commission's files. Plus much else.

Lifton is writing a book about Oswald and Nosenko was the source on what the KGB files on Oswald say.

Nobody has ever asked me what I have on Nosenko or has even mentioned writing about it or to the best of my recollection not even what I think about it.

This student checked not only the overflow files but the subject files in which those two files should not have been anyway.

So, once again the finger points at Richard and nobody else.

I do not recall when I shifted those files but it was probably after the HSCA testimony about him by the CIA.

We hope you all ~~at~~ have a fine holiday season and a good year ahead.

Our best,
