

Gary only, re holograph autopsy protocol 11/13/69

Some time back I told you how I had learned this was there (I should have realized it two years ago) and that I had ordered a set of 35mm positive slides. I do not want any use of this for very special reasons, no nor do I want anyone to realize that I have it and see significance in it. I believe I asked you some time ago about your photog friend making prints from it. This would mean making negatives, I know, and it is not vital. But I would like to have a set to show a few people if the occasion comes up, as I may be able to arrange. I have the xeroxes, but I believe that will be less effective.

So, when you get a chance, would you ask him the approximate cost? Size would depend on this. If he doesn't print his own color, I guess it would be no cheaper through him.

This comes up because Mike Simmons has promised me to say they are ready ready, as is the xeroxing I requested. They can find no Burkley copy of the supplement, so I've asked them to search for a covering or forwarding letter, any proof he had it or had it sent him. I've asked them to notify me in writing if they find nothing of this sort. After what he wrote on the first papers, I do not believe anyone was anxious for him to have the chance to annotate a second set. But if he did, I'd sure like to see the fine commentary he might have added.

I no longer remember what I ordered, but whatever it is, when I get it I'll copy or tell you. I will not go tomorrow. But is due back then. I'll phone him late in the p.m. and see when next week. I'll go either Monday or Wednesday, Tuesday, if necessary, though it is less convenient. I am also anxious to speak to the microfilm printer to see if he has done the printing I've been waiting for.
