6/2/69 Mailing of Village Square and Probe arrived today. Will read both with interest when I can. Glanced at Square. Clear there is no possibility it is or can be self-supporting. What few ads there are have clearly right-wing origin, if they are paid. If INCA's ad is paid, that is in itself a scandal. However, this is an expensive job, and that means Butler must really have his hooks in Frawley. When the issue with the required circulation, ownership, etc. statement appears, I'd like to see that. Might learn something from it...Never heard of Twin Circles Publishers. Freda and Mike came unexpectedly last night with Sabra friend...King LIFE not yet arrived...With Butler doing an article of this length, with more promised to come, I have a hunch it will end up a book. He always winds up owning the copyright of his crap, so it will be a subsidized book, probably printed by one of the radical-right publishers. I should have gotten a tape of the Pyne show but didn't. They promised it twice. I can only wonder how it was edited, for theoriginal had him admitting he is a liar and backing off when I interrupted to say I was familiar with the libel that was about to ensue, and that once I had warned of the fact of it, I'd done all I intended.
