Dear Cal:

I am replying to your recent letter rather than Harold because he is trying to catch up on things which didn't get done while he was in hospital. He is still weakened from all the procedues he underwent during his hospitalization, both here in Frederick and in Baltimore, and needs more rest.

Congratulations on completing your book. I am sure you are glad that the writing and preparation are over. That is a major accomplishment on your part.

On the material you have received from the Archives, Harold would appreciate receiving the Oswald's Mexico City trip report. That is the only one on your list that he either does not have or is interested in obtaining. Thank you for the offer.

We will be happy to see you and your mother for a visit. It would be well to check in advance to make sure that he will be able to see you. We are relying on a day at a time rather than making plans over a longer period.

Thank you in advance for the copy of your book which you will be sending him. He will appreciate the gift.

Please give your mother my regards and tell her that I will be glad to see her again.

Best wishes

Lillian Weisberg
