Dear Cal,

I'm not mad at you. Merely disappointed.

As you saw, I'm old and weak and yet took all the time you wanted. But you waste time for me when you should know better. As on asking me repeatedly for addresses I told you I do not have.

As you have learned without so saying, all I told you about others you are learning for yourself. They do not respond and the books you are spending time on, like Moore's, you are learning for yourself are ~~wh~~ what I told you they are. Now while it is good to take in all side for yourself, that is true only when you have the time. As you do not.

You say you finished Whitewash three weeks after you were <sup>h</sup>ere. Then you should have learned in it that all the doctors testified that it was not possible for all of Connally's wounds to have come from that one bullet, with all the rest of its madeup history. There is more you could have learned about this if instead of taking time for the junk like Moore you had used the index to say <sup>o</sup> Post Mortem. Or <sup>o</sup> read the After word in NEVER AGAIN!

It is disappointing to me that after I explained to you that the question was not the penetrating power of that magical bullet but the possibility of it causing all that damage to Connally <sup>to</sup> those three parts of his body, yet you linger with that belief based only on penetrating power. Which has no real relevance.

You say you'll look at Whitewash again. The last two chapters in particular on this. And note that Specter was specific in saying he was not asking about that bullet, but about any bullet.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Weisberg

Jim Moore is dishonest and I don't agree with him. He is the biggest IDiot in the world. Every thing he wrote about is dishonest.

I have read Whitewash and I am now starting on White II. The fact is that I read Whitewash when I ~~got~~ home from your place and finished it about 3 weeks later. Then I read Jim Moore's book then just now started on White Wash II. So you can see I did forget some. A single bullet a high powered rifle I believe could do it. But make I am wrong, make it was two. In Earlier Chapter's in my book I say ~~may~~ what I believe. never the less I never overlooked the chance of a second bullet hitting him.

If by asking you for other's address mad you mad I am sorry. I am very glad that you gave me some files and let me look at all your records. I am not going against what you said in the interview, I did not change a thing you said. All I said about you are good things.

If you don't want me to come back I won't

Sorry
Cal Schooner

PS. I will look again at Whitewash.
