Dear Gary, 4/18/81

Thanks for your note of the 14th and the enclosed pages from CD 5. Earl's suggestions also can be helpful.

In addition to the copies of CD 5 that reached the Commission, where they became identified as CD 5, the same large reports also had FBI file and serial numbers. In C.A. 78-0322 I forced their disclosure in the form of Dallas copies and it is probable that the FBIHQ versions are included in the general releases.

Going through the vast amount of paper in both cases is now beyond me.

So if anyone has any copies with serials numbers on them, that might be quite helpful.

We'll be deposing a Lab agent in one of my cases before long.

Drain is careful not to cite any specific Lab report.

It is not likely that the Lab repeated its examinations for the two Gemberling reports Earl cites, 1/7 and 1/13/64, so there must have been some other inspiration.

But doesn't it seem strange that the FBI would provide directly contradictory versions of Lab testing?

Do you know of any other cases like this?

Thanks and best wishes,
