

T-P 2-29-68

THE LYONS DEN

Goldberg Complimented

By LEONARD LYONS

NEW YORK — During their White House conference, U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark urged LBJ to persuade Arthur Goldberg to stay at the post, deeming him "irreparable." . . . At LBJ's request, Clark Clifford, although he had not participated in the case at the State Dept. re-argued the case before the Supreme Court. . . . Tom Clark, who argued the case in with the Court to ease the calendar, said by Goldwater said "the Grenouille had running."

* . . . Minister of the Interior, J. Edgar Hoover, is expected to announce at his press conference . . . Alvin Karpis is making a survey of the idea for the TV industry in behalf of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, for its possible entry into the TV field.

* * *

John Sparrow, master of Oxford's All Souls College, is here to defend the Warren Commission Report on TV . . . Newscaster Heywood Hale Broun will do a feature on Nick Colosi, the captain at the Copa who'll try out for a National League umpire's job next month . . . Cecil Brown is making a survey of the idea for the TV industry in behalf of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, for its possible entry into the TV field.

* * *

golf game—18." . . . Rubinstein never eats before a concert: "It's like a sports event. I'd break the back of any man I pounded as hard as I do the piano in one concert."

Aram Khachaturian, the Soviet composer, was at the supper party, but I couldn't persuade him to hear the rock 'n' roll at Arthur.