'JFK,' 'Canyon' lead features slated for upcoming Oslo fest

BY KEITH KELLER

OSLO, Norway — The third annual Oslo Film Event will run Jan. 30-Feb. 5, with a program of 14 new features handpicked for screening well ahead of their actual openings in Norway.

At this year's Film Event, directors Robert Benton, Nikita Milkhalkov, Jan Troell and Martin Asphaug will participate in miniseminars after the showings of their films, "Billy Bathgate," with Dustin Hoffman, the Russian-Mongolian "Urga" (1990 Golden Lion winner at Venice), the Swedish "Il Capitano" and the Norwegian "Lethal Lies" respectively.

Other films programmed include from France "Les Amants du Pont Neuf" by Leos Carax and Peter Chelson's "Hear My Song," starring Ned Beatty.

From England, and from the U.S., there are Oliver Stone's "JFK," Lawrence Kasdan's "Grand Canyon" and Jim Jarmusch's "Night on Earth."

Also Hector Babenco's "At Play in the Fields of the Lord," Barbra Streisand's "Prince of Tides" and Martha Coolidge's "Rambling Rose."

The Film Event is the creation of Moraeus Hansen, program director of Oslo Municipal Cinemas, who hopes to repeat the balance created by the OMC in 1989 and 1990 between boxoffice receipts and marketing expenditure.

All titles will be given two showings during the seven days between noon and midnight performances at the OMC's 484-seater flagship Filmteatret.

Holding an exhibition monopoly in the capital city, the OMC accounts for about one third of Norway's national boxoffice.

No film, American or otherwise, is likely to make it on the national cinema circuit without an Oslo launch.

Equally, few films except those from U.S. majors are likely to be picked up for Norwegian distribution unless given the nod from Hansen.
