Support group

Four Turkish filmmakers are currently receiving Eurimages (European Foundation for Cinema) production support.
Among the new films subsidized by the foundation are Yavuz Ozkan's "To Walk on Fire," Barbro Karabuda's "Violet Bay," Canan Gerede's "Robert's Movie," and Isil Ozgenturk's "I Love You, Rosa."

New law pending

Istanbul festival programmer Vecdi Sayar confirmed that a new film law may be passed soon by the Turkish govern-ment. Aside from modifying the old law on censorship, it would also levy an entertainment tax on theatre tickets to fund Turkish film production. Funds would also be used to expand the Turkish Film Institute and Turkfilm, the much-needed government agency for the promotion of Turkish cinema abroad.

Macau

continued from page I-6 jected to the sale of TdM, however, claiming that the government of Macau, sovereignty over which is scheduled to be transferred from Portugal to Beijing in 1999, is selling stateowned assets.

Beijing has similarly objected to Hong Kong's plan to privatize its own government-run broadcaster Radio Television Hong Kong. Sovereignty of the British colony is scheduled to pass to China in 1997, and mainland authorities have accused London of trying to deprive the future administration of an important media outlet.

The question of the Macau government's sale of TdM must be settled before any new radio broadcaster can be established for the enclave's half-a-million people. Officials close to one of the broadcasters said last week that the issue was unlikely to be resolved by January.

"They have been talking about this for years and they have not done anything about it yet," he said.

Macau's second radio station, Radio Vila Verde, is privately owned and broadcasts music and entertainment in Cantonese.

State

Sippy said he is confident that the film fest will be better organized than the one put together by the government's directorate of film festivals.

However, a group of art filmmakers have expressed anger over this decision, which, they say, was made without their knowledge or consent. They feel the FFI, comprising mainly commercial filmmakers, will ignore them and turn the festival into a circus.

"The big producers have no respect for offbeat cinema," they alleged. Sippy has assured them that they will be asked to participate and that alternative cinema will be given as much representation as commercial fare.
