November 18 1988

Dear Harold,

Thanks for yours of November 15. I understand about the King material, and will honour our agreement unless you change your mind in the year to come. However, I did not know you had never heard back from Sterling Lord. Last I heard, he had found someone who was really interested in working on the King thing with you. Did you ever call him on the subject? Perhaps you should - he is always under great pressure, being a very sought-after agent; but he is from that almost extinct breed, a gentleman, and I am sure he would readily fill you in on what transpired.

Your machine has been hugely useful, and - with your permission - we shall be using it up till we wrap the research stage, on December 22 or thereabouts. My secretary will return it personally, if Kathy does not.

I am sorry I have not seen you for so long. Life is very hectic, and there are simply not enough hours in the day to get the workload done.

Should you see a way I can refer, however obliquely, to your King stuff, I still think it would be worth doing. Let me know - I'll be writing in Ireland all next year, and Jim L. always knows how to find me. Obviously, should you allow me to refer to your leads, I would give you full credit for the breakthrough.

Best from me.
