Phone and mail: Olive Crawford, who had earlier discussed it with my by phone, sent us a different contract for the listing of our Hyattstown property for sale. She phoned this a.m. to ask why I had not returned it. We have not received it. She said she phoned at least three different times last week, not early in a.m. or pate in p.m., the only times I have not been home. Nor Wednesday a.m., when I was away. Sale of this property would be of considerable help to us now. However, there has not been any ~~usualy~~ unusual delay in mail for some time and no reason to believe any has not reached me. Senator Mathis, however, wrote me last week to say he had not yet received a letter I sent him In January. It has not been returned. It also dealt with what could be helpful to us. Such coincidences!
