MANSFIELD—From Page A1

Atmosphere Readied For Europe Troop Cut

Stage Set For Possible Troop Cut By Murrey Marde Washington Post Staff Writer

The Johnson Administration is now laying the psychological groundwork for a sizable cut in United States troop strength in Western Europe.

Defense Department officials are insistently denying that any large reduction is planned or contemplated.

But, according to authoritative sources, barring a major change of attitude on both sides of the Atlantic, the Johnson Administration is now headed toward a large cut in forces.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield on Wednesday publicly offered one formulation for how large reductions could be made. He made his proposal after consulting with the Administration's highest officials, at President Johnson's suggestion.

Would Cushion Impact

Mansfield did not expressly say so then, but his proposal would cushion the political impact of a troop cut on the super-sensitivities of West Ger-many, where the bulk of American forces in Europe are largest troop cut in West Ger-|edged. But these sources said many, where the United States McNamara was not talking is now publicly pledged to have 225,000 troops by year's about an imminent cut, but a posed reduction would come men in West Germany that in France.

Instead of making the See MANSFIELD, A12, Col. 1

ing of "the approximately 75, bers of supply and mainte-000 members of the armed nance presonnel. services and their dependents" President de Gallue's with-drawal from the NATO mili-cut. He has publicly advotary system. According to Pen- cated a reduction in the pres-France, in June, were actually rope to "one or two." 30,000 military personnel and Mansfield Wrote Johnson 37,000 dependents.

As "a good second step,"

Removing troops France to the United States, and Western Europe.' in terms of both American costs and NATO defense, is as Mansfield told the Senate

Reports Denied

For weeks there have been reports, roundly denied, that the troop question. After he Defense Secretary Robert S. wrote to the President, Mr. McNamara was planning to Johnson arranged for a meet-withdraw 75,000 U.S. troops ing of the whole Policy Comfrom West Germany, if that mittee with McNamara, Secrenation failed to continue to tary of State Dean Rusk and meet the full dollar cost of Treasury Secretary Henry W. maintaining American troops Fowler. The meeting was held dent, other sources acknowl- the subject.

end, the biggest Mansfield-pro- projected reduction of 75,000 from withdrawing troops now could be accomplished in the 1970s by maintaining combat Mansfield said he was talk- efficiency but reducing num-

Mansfield said yesterday he in France, who must be pulled was unaware that there had out next year as a result of been any previous public reftagon figures, the numbers in ent six U.S. divisions in Eu-

Mansfield said he wrote to Mansfield proposed "an initial 10 per cent reduction of U.S. troop strength in Germany and elsewhere on the Western European continent." the President several weeks ago that the Democratic Policy Committee was "unanimously" concerned that today there are "still just under a million U.S. troops the President several weeks under a million U.S. troops from and dependents in Germany

The committee protested almost equivalent to withdraw-ing them from West Germany, is trying to operate on a without the same political "doube standard": maintainsting, Most of these Frenching that Communist aggresbased forces were carmarked for use in West Germany or elsewhere in the Western European sector of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ing that Communist aggression in Europe is "wholly unlikely," but failing to fulfill their NATO obligations while assailing the United States for even considering troop reductions.

Mansfield apparently was on July 18. Later, the Demo-cratic Policy Committee held tioned by McNamara to a West two more meetings, one with German defense correspon- Administration specialists on