the most very noisy & shocking conduct, he nonetheless carefully notes for himself & the Pensionary administration by omitting reference to the one most obvious & central fact: Once R. became president he would have had the settlement Sch. says he wanted by a very simple expedient: cutting off all US aid & money to Vietnam, the complete CIA withdrawal.
 There was no need to look in all with him & every reason - if A is telling the truth about the real feeling of the administration - of ending him & what he stood for. The failure of the administration to do so looks undeniable doubt on Sch's apologetic for it, & on his historical integrity.
