Dear Ms. Walters,

I am sorry that it is not possible for me to engage in the kind of correspondence you and so many others would like.

In common with so many others what you write reflects the degree to which caring people have been deceived and misled by the great volume of irresponsible JFK assassination literature and the commercially- acceptable theories invented for cheap fame or real commercial profit.

Two examples from your 1/21: There is no evidence that Nixon was in any way involved and it is irrational to think that had he been he'd have been anywhere nearby.

There is no evidence at all that E. Howard Hunt was in any way involved in the JFK assassination. There isn't even a rational basis for suspecting it. This concoction was invented by self-seekers and obvious liars. This is also true of Mark Lane's latest exploitation and self-promotion, Plausible Denial. And he is making a pot over his fabrications, largely because institutions can't sue him and most of the others are dead or in various ways immune.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Mr. Weisberg

Thank you so much for writing to me. I was hopeful that you would have enjoyed the fact that more people are being exposed to the fraud of the Warren Commission findings. I was just looking over my notes again on Sunday and reading the articles that I have collected on the movie; it suddenly occurred to me that I had misread your quote. One of my friends has been aware of my year long reading project on the assassination and the theories, he asked me how I had reacted to the movie and I had told him much of it went along with what I had read already. I must get your books and the books you mentioned again in your letter. Thank you so much for your help and direction in this matter. When I spoke to my friend again, I mentioned that I was again beginning to try to be careful how much conjecture and theory I am bringing to my own understanding and told him of your caution to be sure that you keep only the facts.

I am disappointed that you do not endorse the movie. I will keep trying to find out what really happened. I want to read Sylvia Meagher's "Accessories After the Fact" and Howard Roffman's "Presumed Guilty." You didn't mention the A&E Investigative report series on "The Men who Killed Kennedy." That is where I first heard you say that your study is of the institutions. Were they just imposing on the people's trust again?

What about Fletcher Prouty? Doesn't he know more of the facts? Would you encourage a study of his book? He seemed to have inside knowledge.

What about Nixon? Do you still contend that he had nothing to do with it even when he gained so much from it? Wasn't he in Dallas that day or the day before and couldn't remember?! After losing both Presidency and Gubernatorial elections wasn't he quoted as saying, "You won't have Richard Nixon to kick around anymore"? And yet there is a president in 68? Wasn't he backed by Syd Richardson and Clint Murchison who hated Kennedy? With his ties as former Vice-President to Eisenhower, and White House action officer approving Bay of Pigs invasion, doesn't it follow that he had a vested interest in protecting CIA and covert actions? The fact that Howard Hunt was implicated in both Watergate and the assassination say something about Nixon's motives, actions, and involvement?

Your comment about a new investigation and political lives not being able to survive investigating FBI was at least something I had already considered. The way "official investigations" have been carried out proves that we can't expect the government to investigate properly. It has to be someone who has nothing to lose and who can publicize themselves well enough to avoid being eliminated. There has been so much killing. Even after 28 years is the possibility still as eminent?

Again I wish to thank you for writing me with your feelings, for guiding me and sharing with me. If you still have the energy and time, I would very much enjoy your further comments.

Thanks.

Sincerely
Sue Walters
