Dear Harvey Shelton,

Separately we are sending you all four of our books. I am looking forward to hearing the Lane tape so I can avoid the same topics. I'd also just like to hear it.

You asked for a few suggestions on what we might go into, to start it off. Because I am the only one to have done personal New Orleans investigations and to have done a book on that subject, why not start with that. We can go into some of the suppressed

Evidence

avoided
misrepresented
available and unsought
now permanently lost Indications of federal involvement Oswald as federal agent non-investigation of false pretense about

suppressions
misrepresentations

State of Shaw trial

why delayed and by whom consequences

on Garrison and his case on Shaw and his personal position and rights

Effects of fictitious solution government's integrity

societies intergity

Consequences

coup d'etat
immediate policy changes
Viet Nam
Dominican Republic
continued high-level spending for waste, continued emphasis on military solutions when they cannot work

Now, we can go into any aspect of the case you want, save I'd like to avoid comment on Shaw and Thornley because their are under indictment. However, because he and a friend of his have undertaken to assassilate me in a west-coast hippie paper, I shall have to respond to any attacks by his friends.

Generally speak, people tend to discuss and discuss the things they knew or have heard of. Often it is possible to discuss what they do not know. Where it is possible I'd like to give your listeners some of these things. One of these has to do with the destroyed, misrepresented and avoided photographic evidence, about which I have written a book that is little known.

Looking forward to it. Many thanks.

Sincerely,
Harold Weisberg
