

7/9/70

Dear Cyril,

Since writing you I've gotten two more pictures that should have close analysis, of the damage to the shirt, so instead of sending these things to you piecemeal, why not wait until you are here? Maybe I'll have more by then. Either I will or they'll be still another suit, against Archives and the executor of the estate. I now have clear photos, without the lithographic screen, pictures that can be enlarged.

Why I can't tell, and whether accidental or purposeful is also a mystery, but in preparing a composite for the Commission, its Exhibit 60, the FBI printed the enlargement of the real damage to the shirt upside down. Typically, no body paid close enough attention to catch it, either on the Commission staff or the "buffs".

There has been another change since I wrote. Bud thinks the suit on the spectro is great. He will handle that one. I gave him a draft of the complaint and about 30 exhibits, which are not all, but enough to do a little shaking up, and he wants to add almost that many more!

He hasn't yet had a chance to read the other two I've completed, one of which will interest you rather much, I think.

We look forward to your visit.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Harold:

I have a criminologist in my Office who could give us a competent opinion concerning the item you refer to in your letter of 1 July 1970. If you send the material along, please be specific as to what you want evaluated, what questions answered, etc.

I hope that your new lines of inquiry prove fruitful.

I do hope that later this summer, my wife and I will be able to take advantage of your kind invitation. It certainly sounds delightful.

With kind regards.

Sincerely,

Cyril H. Wecht, M.D., J.D.
