

① "used at the moment, etc"

True, but found to be regarded as nit-picking.

This is true of most shells that are found at the scene of a shooting.

⑤ I don't think there is any evidence that "residues were wiped off the bullet". All we know is what Frayser says: that when he received the bullet, the bullet was "clean" (he does not even say "cleaned"). There is no evidence that the bullet ever had "residue" of any type, except in the case where Frayser mentions "substance" or "material" or some indefinite phrase of that type.
