Howard, Paul, Dick, Gary,

I have just found two boxes of xeroxed copies of the appendix to POST MORTEM. These were copied from the original Archives documents prepared for reproduction in the event printing of the book became possible. It was done in N.O., as part of the deal under which I gave them this material to use in the trial.

I have never gone over these. They seem to be put together in sets, but that may or may not be so. The copying was done by a steno in between other chores, and from time to time she had to stop so others could use the machine. So, before anything can be done with them, they have to be checked to be certain the collating was accurate and that each set is complete.

This is to let you know I have these copies and would like to be able to make them available to any who would like them. However, I cannot take time to do the checking of the sets.

Perhaps when Howard is next here he might find it worth using the time that way?

If I get any unskilled volunteer help, which I haven't had offered in some time, I'll get this done that way and let you know.

In the course of this "discovery", I also located the originals appendixes of PM and O in NO.
