

The opening paragraph of the Commission's Report to the President read, in part:

The assassination of John Fitzgerald Kennedy on November 22, 1963, was a cruel and shocking act of violence directed against a man, a family, a nation, and against all mankind. A young and vigorous leader whose years of public and private life stretched before him was the victim of the fourth Presidential assassination in the history of a country dedicated to the concepts of reasoned argument and peaceful political change.¹⁰

I suggest that whether under 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7), Part I hereof, or under § 552(b)(3), specifically exempting from disclosure by statute the materials appellant had sought, Part II hereof, the law, as to the issue before us, forbids against this appellant's proposed further inquiry into the assassination of President Kennedy.

REQUIESCAT IN PACE.

I would affirm the judgment of the district court.
