Dear Mr. Weisberg:

We are very much interested in your manuscript on the Warren Report.
Is it still free? If your answer is in the affirmative, is it now being considered by other houses?

Can you give us some information on your background and on what experience you have had -- I assume it has been extensive -- in the field of investigation?

With best wishes, I am,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

I am sorry that after very careful consideration we have decided we cannot make an offer for your extremely interesting manuscript entitled, THE REPORT ON THE WARREN REPORT. This decision is based, in part, on the fact that Sylvan Fox's book (also critical of the Warren Report) is already on the market.

Inasmuch as you told Miss Shafte that you were submitting this manuscript to another publishing house at the same time, you are allowing us to consider it, we are returning your carbon copy under separate cover via special fourth class rate.

With best wishes, I am,

Yours sincerely,
