MADAME CHERIE GWEN, I LEFT YOU BECAUSE

I LOVED YOU. THERE ARE AS FITZGERALD WROTE NO SECOND ACTS IN AMERICAN LIVES. I WANTED YOU TO LEAD A DECENT LIFE. I COULD HAVE JUST PUNCHED MY RIVAL'S OUT. I BOXED FLOYD PATTERSON, THE HEAVY WEIGHT CHAMP, IN A GYM FIGHT AND KNOCKED HIM COLD. HE HAD A GLASS NAW. I USED TO SPAR WITH MAILER, NOSE TAPES, WHO KNOCKED OUT BABO OLSON, WITH A LEFT HOOK TO THE KIND BOY, GRIFFITH WHO KILLED PARET FOR CALLING HIM "MARICON" QUEER WHICH HE WAS! YOU WERE AN INNOCENT, SHY GIRL WHO WAS AN ABUSED CHILD WITH A SICK MOTHER. YOU DRESSED UP TO HIDE YOUR NATURAL BRANTY - GLASSES, COLLARS UP TO HERE. AS MILLER'S "CORRUPT" WIFE" TOLD ME BUY HER SOME DIOR, SAINT-LAURENT/BALMAIN CLOTHES + SOME OPIUM PERFUME. YOU'RE THE FASHION GENIUS AT GIMMELS. SHE TURNS MY WHEELS. I DID NOT WANT ANOTHER WENDY CRABTREE. SHE WAS MARRIED + FELL IN LOVE WITH ME IN ENGLISH CLASS. WE HELD HANDS AND I JUST TOOK HER OUT SHOPPING AND WITH KIM WE MOVED INTO THE LANGFORD. HER HUSBAND! WHAT A NICE! ARMY TOUGH GUY. I GAVE HIM

The election of the new Prince of the Universe should have had profound and far-reaching consequences for the future of the American people and for the life, liberty and happiness of Mankind.

But in the summer of 1968, the legitimate representatives of the Republican and Democratic Parties decided to pick their candidates for 37th President of the United States from among the merchandise on sale in the bargain basement.

In the decades and in the history books to come, 1968 will be remembered as the year the lights flickered out -- as a year of frustrations, regressions and shattered myths.

These reversions to the past -- Prague, the Vatican, Chicago -- are the manifestations of political and economic forces seeking desperately to preserve situations of which they have long since lost control.

But the twilight descending upon the United States will have the gravest consequences of all, for it is American never before -- ROMANIA AND A BOWS CONFORMIST --

BILL SELLS ROALESTATE IN WA

American society whose prosperity is based on initiative, energy and efficiency, but also on what Europeans call corruption, an additional arm made available to those whose sole motivation is profit. America, wrote George Washington, is a country where political offices bear no proportion to those who seek them.

America accepted Franklin D. Roosevelt only because she had no other alternative. She found herself again in Harry Truman, a solid citizen with no perverse ambitions who declared that "the combined thought and action of a people always lead in the right direction."<sup>7</sup> Eisenhower was the ideal President. A victorious commander, he dazzled the crowds. Inconsistent, he had no dangerous political philosophy. A petty bourgeois, he dared not oppose the Titans.

And suddenly Kennedy appeared, the first President born in this century, a millionaire, a liberal, and an intellectual. The Democratic candidate nevertheless made no attempt to conceal his aims.

"In the decade that lies ahead — in the challenging revolutionary sixties — the American Presidency will demand more than ringing manifestoes issued from the rear of the battle. It will demand that the President place himself in the very thick of the fight, that he care passionately about the fate of the people he leads, that he be willing to serve them at the risk of incurring their momentary displeasure."

"We stand today at the edge of a New Frontier — the frontier of the 1960's — a frontier of unknown opportunities and perils — a frontier of unfulfilled hopes and threats."

"Woodrow Wilson's New Freedom promised our nation a new political and economic framework. Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal promised security and succor to those in need. But the New Frontier of which I speak is not a set of promises — archetype that stands as a model for the average citizen. Athens chose the philosopher and the artist ; for the Jews, it was the law-giving prophet ; for Rome, the soldier-administrator ; for China, the learned Mandarin ; for England, the empire builder ; for Japan and German, and professional soldier ; for India, the ascetic. For the United States, it was the businessman !

While other nations might have chosen wisdom, beauty, saintliness, military glory, bravery or ascetism as their popular divinities, the United States chose the civilization of gain. The true gods and the only Titans of America were Jay Gould, Daniel Drew, Jay Cooke, Andrew Carnegie, Charles T. Yerkes, Solomon Guggenheim and Irene Du Pont.

Some of these men, like J. Pierpont Morgan, became gay, high-living nabobs. But most, like Henry Ford, were frugal and dreary puritans. All of them, even the most devout, even the most devoted, even the most sincere, had one thing in common : where business was concerned, they were tough. The churches approved of this attitude. In his book Heroes of Progress, the Reverend McClinock wrote :

" May he long enjoy the fruits of his work and promote the reign of Christ on this earth, not only through the Christian use of the vast fortune with which God has favored him, but through the living example of his active and peaceful piety." He was referring to Daniel Drew, who cheated his associates, bribed municipal governments, and took advantage of the credulity of the people.

The first American giants — Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, McKay, McCoy — whether they were oilmen, shipowners, prospectors or livestock dealers, made or consolidated their fortunes by smuggling arms and supplies during the Civil War. Today's Titans are often college graduates. Some are affable and well-bred. They constitute an oligarchy of directorial bureaucrats who, while lacking the personal fortunes of the old Titans, have preserved their power and conserved their practices. For them, and it is true, profit is " the remuneration

"Happy Days are Here Again," they sang at the Chicago Convention. But the scores have not been settled.

Who killed them?

And why?

This book sets out to answer these questions. But beyond the facts and the outcries, behind the assassins and their motives, other culprits appear. The responsibility of American civilization is no longer in doubt.

Europe sometimes speaks of taking up the American challenge. But do the force of arms, the excesses of an economy and the abuses of a political system constitute an adequate example? Washington, Lincoln and the Kennedys gone, never in two centuries have the virtues and hopes on which the young Republic was founded been so gravely endangered as they are today.

By their meditations, by their decisions, by their rebellion, the citizens of the United States will bring about their Renaissance.

We dedicate this book to the youth of the Seventies. Only they will know how to face the crises that lie ahead. May they find in these pages the strength to defy the redoubtable old men and revive the forgotten glories.
