

Hollywood facades, make-up and buffoonery.

The King truly is dead.

1. See Oswald in New Orleans, Case for Conspiracy With the CIA, by Harold Weisberg, Canyon Books, New York city, 1967. Forward by Jim Garrison.
2. 9 HSCA 110. The House Committee conducted an extensive investigation to determine if Oswald and Ferrie knew each other when Oswald was in High School, and they were able to find out more than was known in 1963, saying "The records themselves lent substantial credence to the possibility that Oswald and Ferrie had been involved in the same CAP unit during the same period of time." See the whole section from page 103 to 115, vol, which presents numerous witnesses who knew both and otherwise had to know each other. The House did not make this too public.
3. Bertrand, 5 H 614; 11 H 330-337, 339; Andrews testimony, 11 H 325-339.
4. Proof that Marcello and Ferrie knew each other well is outlined in 9 HSCA 107 and mentioned in the Report, The House Select Committee on Assassinations, p. 143. See pp. 143-5, 147; 4 HSCA 485; 10 HSCA 105, 111-22, 132, 203; Van Wynesberghe, "Dead Suspects Part III", The Third Decade March, 1987; Ferrie and Marcello: The Continuing Inquiry, January, 1979; Anthony Summers, Conspiracy, McGraw/Hill, 1980; Rosemary James & Jack Wardlaw, Pelican Publishing Company, New Orleans--extensive discussion about Ferrie throughout; Bernard Fensterwald, Coincidence or Conspiracy, 295-305, and see index.
5. Bernard Fensterwald, Coincidence or Conspiracy, p. 306-16, and see index; Anthony Summers, Conspiracy as well as many other books. Role in Organized Crime: 9 HSCA 18, 61-9, 93, 102, 420, 422.
6. Deportation 9 HSCA 58, 61-4, 69-76, 84.
7. Report, The House Select Committee on Assassinations, p. 143, note 26.
8. ibid, p. 144.
9. Scott Van Wynesberghe, The Third Decade, May 1988, p. 11; Anthony Summers, Conspiracy, McGraw Hill, 1980, p. 498 mentions the meeting between Garrison and John Roselli a month after Ferrie died.
10. Rosemary James & Frank Wardlaw, Plot or Politics, Pelican Publishing Company, 1967, p. 9, Times-Picayune photo.

11. Conspiracy, by Anthony Summers, McGraw-Hill, 1980, p. 315.
12. 7 H 14, 29-31.
13. Report, House Select Committee on Assassinations, p. 144.
14. Rosemary James & Jack Wardlaw, Plot or Politics, Pelican Publishing Company, New Orleans, p. 152.
15. Interview with Gary Shaw, December 13, 1991; also in his book Cover-ups,
16. James & Wardlaw, p. 47, 154-5.
17. Kirkwood, American Grotesque, p. 154 Sheridan, The Fall and Rise of Jimmy Hoffa, p. 426.
18. Jim Garrison, On The Trail of the Assassins, Sheridan Square Press, p. 86-7
19. "Dead Suspects, Part VI, Clay Lavergne Shaw," by Scott Van Wynesberghe, The Third Decade, May 1988. This longish article is recommended to researchers as an extended discussion of the Shaw prosecution, the people involved, and Garrison.
20. Victor Marchetti in True magazine, April 1975; and Hunt v. Weberman, S.D. Fla. 1979; Hunt v. Liberty Lobby, S.D. Fla., No. 80-1121-Civ.-JWK, deposition of Richard McGarrah Helms, June 1, 1984, p. 37.
21. Garrison, p. 251.
22. ibid.
23. Garrison, p. 228
24. Gary Rowell writing in first The Continuing Inquiry, November, 1981, and then The Third Decade, January, 1991.
25. I am indebted to Mark crouch for this imagery, though he was referring to certain prominent researchers.
26. Plot Or Politics, Rosemary James & Jack Wardlaw, Pelican Publishing Company, 1967, p. 40.
27. ibid, p. 41.
28. James & Wardlaw p. 46.

29. Plot or Politics, Rosemary James & Jack Wardlaw, Pelican Publishing House, New Orleans, 1967, p. 47
30. ibid.
31. Forgive My Grief III, by Penn Jones, Jr., p. 38, 41, 43, 45.
32. Interview on WDSU-TV, February 24, 1967; Oswald In New Orleans, Harold Weisberg, p. 237; Scandals, Scamps, and Scoundrels, James Phelan, p. 152; American Grotesque, Kirkwood, p. 144; Counterplot, Epstein, p. 48.
33. Oswald In New Orleans, Harold Weisberg, p. 237; Scandals, Scamps, and Scoundrels, James Phelan, p. 152; American Grotesque, Kirkwood, p. 144; Counterplot, Epstein, p. 48. Plot Or Politics, Rosemary James & Jack Wardlaw, Pelican, 1967; See also Scott Van Wynesberghe in The Third Decade, May 1988, p. 4,
34. Phelan, Scandals, Scamps and Scoundrels, pp. 152-3; Kirkwood, American Grotesque, pp. 144-5, 205; G. Robert Blakey and Richard N. Billings, The Plot to Kill the President, (New York: Times Books, 1981) p. 50. Wynesberghe, The Third Decade, May 1988, p. 5.
35. See High Treason, "Strange Deaths" chapter.
36. Harold Weisberg, Oswald in New Orleans, p. 237; Phelan, Scandals, Scamps, and Scoundrels, p. 152; Kirkwood, American Grotesque, p. 144; Epstein, Counterplot, p. 48; Van Wynesberghe, The Third Decade, May 1988, p. 4.
37. Rosemary James & Jack Wardlaw, Plot or Politics?, p. 81.
38. On the Trail of the Assassins, Jim Garrison, p. 234; True, 1975, Victor Marchetti,
39. The Third Decade, May, 1988.
40. Bird, "Clay Shaw is dead at 60"; Phelan, Scandals, Scamps and Scoundrels, p. 174; Coincidence or Conspiracy?, by Bernard Fensterwald, Zebra, 1977, p. 454.
41. Clinton witnesses, Report HSCA, 142-3, 145; 4 HSCA 482, 484; 10 HSCA 4, 114, 132, 203; Fensterwald 298-9.
42. Scott Van Wynesberghe writing in The Third Decade, May 1988, p. 12-13. Sources for the first, second, and third statements are as follows: Mark Lane, Rush to Judgement, p. xxvii; Bernard Fensterwald, Coincidence or Conspiracy? p. 298-9, Clinton witnesses--Report of the HSCA, p. 142-3, 145, 4 HSCA 482, 484,

- 10 HSCA 4, 114, 132, 203; Kirkwood, American Grotesque, p. 314-315; ibid, p. 370-372, 407.
43. Letter to the author, December 12, 1991.
44. Letter to the author, December 12, 1991.
45. Washington Post, May 19, 1991.
46. Dallas Morning News, April 14, 1991.
47. Times-Picayune, June 9, 1991.
48. Chicago Tribune, May 13, 1991.
49. Washington Post, May 19, 1991.
50. The Hollywood Reporter, August 15, 1991.
51. The Hollywood Reporter August 15, 1991.
52. Jay Carr (film critic at the Boston Globe) writing in The Hollywood Reporter, August 15, 1991.
53. ibid.
54. Times-Picayune, June 9, 1991
55. The New York Times quoting the Times-Picayune, June 12, 1991.
56. Los Angeles Times, June 24, 1991.
57. Washington Post, June 2, 1991.
58. The Hollywood Reporter, August 15, 1991.
59. ABC-TV Night Line, December 20, 1991.
60. ABC-TV Night Line, December 20, 1991.
61. ABC-TV Night Line, December 20, 1991.
62. James & Wardlaw, p. 149.
63. ABC-TV Night Line, December 20, 1991.
64. Chaplinsky v. New Hampshire, 315 U.S. 568, 1942.
65. Time, Hays Gorey and Martha Smilgis, June 10, 1991.

66. Elaine Dutka, The Los Angeles Times, June 24, 1991.
67. ABC's Night Line, December 20, 1991.
68. Life, December , 1991.
69. Dallas Morning News, December 15, 1991, p. 9 C.
70. Lardner got the phrase from the famous (to newsmen) Red Lion case, an antitrust suit.
71. Elaine Dutka quoting Lardner, The Los Angeles Times, June 24 1991.
72. The Washington Post, December 20, 1991.
73. Both Newsweek and Time articles are dated December 23, 1991.
74. The New York Times, December 20, 1991.
75. Desson Howe in The Baltimore Sun, December 20, 1991.
76. The Washington Post, December 20, 1991.
77. The Baltimore Sun, December 20, 1991.
78. Time, December 23, 1991.
79. Fletcher Prouty was sent to the Antarctic just before John Kennedy's murder, obviously to get him out of the way, and upon his return the day of the assassination he walked through a New Zealand airport and saw the newspapers saying that Kennedy had been killed. As previously explained, Prouty misinterpreted the wire story facts about Oswald given in the article to mean that only an intelligence agency could have put that on the wire so quick, but Stone used this newspaper and what Prouty told him in a prominent way in the film, even though he had been told that it was ridiculous. Prouty was an advisor on the film, and all of what Mr. X has to say can be found in Prouty's early writings and in my first book on the subject.
80. ABC-TV Night Line, December 20, 1991.
81. High Treason, by Harrison Edward Livingstone, pp. 60, 62, 64-5, 200-1, 331.
82. ABC-TV Night Line, December 20, 1991.
83. Elaine Dutka in The Los Angeles Times, June 24, 1991.

84. NBC Radio interview with Steve Futterman, carried by the BBC, December 20, 1991.

85. Times-Picayune December 15, 1991.