Dear Mr. Kelley:

Thank you for your letter in reply to my Freedom of Information Act request.

My complete name is Kerry Wendell Thornley (but is listed on my birth certificate as Wendell Kerry Thornley). I was born on April 17, 1938 in Los Angeles, California.

As I understand the intent of the Freedom of Information Act it is to force agencies such as yours to reveal to individuals such as me what information and misinformation you may have compiled on us, what dirty tricks, etc., you may have perpetrated against us, and so forth.

By no leap of the imagination do I conceive of the letter or spirit of the Freedom of Information Act as requiring me to furnish you with additional information about myself regarding prior addresses and employments, since such data could be of little use to you in answering my request, but would of course provide an excellent basis for establishing a new dossier on me in the files of your agency.

Over my notarized signature I hereby request that you honor the exact wording of my previous letter, which I now confirm is a genuine and authentic request that you furnish me with that material specified therein and required under law to be given me.

Most sincerely,

Kerry Wendell Thornley
