Dear Alen,

Here isz the latest exhhange with Healy.

I find it interesting that he defends himself against the charge that the purpose was to defame me, including by saying I was found guilty when I had not been, with a memo from his writer who therein confesses this belief and says it is natural.

I regret very much that there appears to be nowhere I can turn for help, on any of the many issues with which I am involved.

It is the history of every country that went fascist that those in a position to try and do something failed. There are many ways in which fascism can be opposed, and each should be tried. This does not excuse those who can do something on the basic issue and do not.

There is little doubt that without the assassination of John Kennedy and those that followed the bad situation that ensued and then got worse would not have been possible.

Need I comment on what now impends?

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
