Dear Jerry and Sally:

In answer to your Friday morning question about Lane's chapters dealing with Nancy Rich and Cuba which I have read, I also read them in the evidence and a couple of months ago in Volume 1 of Penn Jones, Jr.'s "Forgive My Grief", Library of Congress Catalog No. 66-22345. In Jones this beings on page 99 and runs through 119 and contains rich and fragrant material about Mrs. Rich Lane apparently thought a little bit too strong for the nostrils of his readers.

Enticing as this is and as Lane found it, the witnesses upon whom it depends are too weak.

I am most of the way through the book (page 312) and have found nothing to alter the opinion I gave you over the phone. More than ever I am anxious to get page and/or galley proofs.

A phone call from my English agent reports sale of serialization rights to a new German magazine (the name of which he couldn't remember) by his German associate.

Sincerely,
