Dear Emory,

Relet 17: fine.

If I didn't ask, have you any idea what the Russian letters "DD" could represent? I understand this is the most likely reading of those letters ahead of the numbers in the notebook.

I know no one fluent in Russian or the probably abbreviations. I think they also may have a significance.

This matter is in an entirely different class. Whether or not there is significance to the shorter number, there can be no doubt about the longer one, and it would be much better if it were not known that I know of even its existence. I also know its alleged significance.

Many thanks. I hope you can do something out. There at some point must be an end to "coincidence".

Sincerely,

Dear Harold:

Just a quick note to let you know I received your letter of 16 March and five attached papers today. Looks interesting and I will try and get at it this coming weekend.

All correspondence that comes from you is treated as confidential material and I shall afford these papers the same courtesy. When I sent copies of the Morgan letters to Bryan and the ACA You did not object and I removed Morgans name and the dates and your name. If additional assistance is necessary I shall contact you beforehand to obtain a clearance and handle it as you may wish.

I will send a report off to you at the earliest time. Thanks and good luck.

Sincerely,
