SPIROISMS BOOK TO BE RELEASED

The REAL Spiro Agnew,
Name of Journal

A book of political commentaries by often outspoken Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is slated for release Aug. 15 and will be published locally by the Pelican Publishing Co.

The book's title is "The REAL Spiro Agnew — Common-sense Quotations of a Household World."

Among those attending a pre-publication party Friday night at Gallier Hall were Charles Brooks, president of the Association of American Editorial Cartoonists and illustrator of the book; Eldon Pletcher, editorial cartoonist for The Times-Picayune, and Ralph Vinson, editorial cartoonist for the New Orleans States-Item.

The book features a cover with a cartoon by Brooks picturing an angry U.S. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., throttling Uncle Sam.

Beneath Uncle Sam is a quotation on Fulbright by Agnew: "Asking Senator Fulbright's advice on foreign policy is like asking the Boston Strangler to massage your neck."

"The REAL Spiro Agnew" has a special foreward by Al Capp, a cartoonist who is also known for being outspoken.

The book is edited by Baton Rouge public relations man James Calhoun who is a former newsman.
