Door Fr. Leasty.

Your letter firm your office, dated 1/9, has been forwarded from

I think, escuring the picture has not been dectored, that you have made a singularly important observation. I have the Swies edition of Josefan's "Die Tebrheit, etc" and on unnumbered usge 111 there is a picture similar to the one you describe in the German edition. It is a heavily-proposed picture, but it does show the President well to the right of that tree and gripping his throat, just as in the Altgens picture. What is as important, from a heaty examination, is that it shows noone in the sixth-floor window, not a single one of the taree degrees in the fifth-floor windows, of which only the essternment two are visible - that is, the single paid - and much of the Dal-Tex. Bldg. Here what means to be a man in visible at a mindow or on the second-floor fire-escape landing.

liowever, is the picture genuine? First of all, my knowledge of Josetenia writing does not encourage this belief. Secondly, compare that picture with the Altgens in my first two books, especially the first-except shadows. There are long shedows in Altgens missing in Joseten, east by the fire escape. I suggest the absence of these shawn in Joseten manns his picture is a combination of one taken later that day and of the crucial part of the Altgens.

If your opinion is otherwise. I would like to beer from you, as I would if the picture to which you refer is a different one.

If your edition cites a source or credit for this picture, I would like to know it. I'd like to have a print rather than a printed reproduction and get an analysis from photo experts.

Thanks very much for your interest.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

Mr & Harold Weisberg Hyattstown, Maryland 20734 Dear sir

If you a obtain a copy of the German language edition of "Ine Kennedy Assassination" published by Joachim Joesten, in 199x 1966, and turn to page 112, you will see a very revealing picture. I believe it is the first Altgens picture, as contrasted with the 2nd Altgens picture, which shows Lovelady (or Oswald in the background) this picture shows that the car carrying the President has barely passed the center of the tree and President Kennedy has definitely reacted. This should definitely pinpoint the first shot as frame 175 to 180 in the Zpruder scale. Publications such as Life Magazine recently showed pictures of Major Willis, taken much later and describe these as being taken at the instant of the first shot.

Yours truly,
