Dear Joel,

A written reminder rather than another phone call: I've still not received the videotape or the intercept transcripts and would appreciate them.

I was not able to see the show at all well the night it was aired.

That was the night of my eye operation.

I've seen Jack's columns pointing toward a demand for a new investigation.

Not only does this stuff not attack at all, which it doesn't, you (and he) can be sure, as some records I've sent you indicate, that if not sooner as soon as the show was aired the FBI prepared quite detailed refutations and assorted slurs readily gotten from their existing files and has already distributed them within the government.

With pressure it may well leak them for its own public defense.

It has its own way of getting these things before they are public and when it knows of something coming it does this. I've a fair number of illustrations with books and articles. At least one TV show, too.

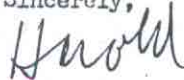

It will do this with all comments and criticism, particularly the anniversary TV shows and books. It will have been prepared with regard to all before they were public for at least internal uses. It knew they were coming.

Based on what I know about, there is only one thing that can cause them any problems and that only if seen by other agencies.

This is what A & B aired, the student's "Reasonable Doubt." I can anticipate some of the smears it has prepared and will use - but only if really necessary.

Please, do, remember this time.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
