Dear either or both,

I deeply regret that what I believed were simple requests I made of you were so much too taxing that in months you have not been able to select a few pictures for me from the Archives, for which I sent a check, or to tell me whether you had forwarded by letter to Linda Hunt or to send me her address.

Then, of course, it is possible you considered these requests picayune compared with what else takes your time. They are only for a book to be published.

To make a little bit of help possible without exhausting you I enclose a piece of paper on which you can perhaps find the time to tell me the proper person to address at the Archives and on which you can write Linda Hunt's address.

Thanks,

Harold Weisberg

A self-addressed stamped envelope is also enclosed.

The proper person at the Archives of whom requests for copies of pictures are made is:
